STILL ON THE TRAIL OF CLARK'S MURDERER

Officers Are Baffled to Date, but Are Not in the Least Discouraged.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 2.—The murderer of Deputy Sheriff Seymour Clark of Unitab a. OGDEN. Dec. 2.—The murderer of Deputy Sheriff Seymour Clark of Uintah a week ago is still at large. While theory after theory has been advanced, and numberless claes have been followed by the detectives and officers working on the case, nothing yet has been obtained which will fasten the crime upon an vertain person. The little lown of Uintah is the theater of action for the officers Morgan, Peterson, and other settlements surrounding Uintah, including the O'Neill construction camp in Weber canyon, base been raked as with a fine-tooth comb by the detectives for some scrap of evidence which might ald them in the search for the murderer, but as yet this much-desired evidence is lacking. Officers working on the case, however, are not in the least discourased. They realize that the guilty man would naturally preserve an extra amount of caution so soon after the tragedy, and hope in the course of time to land behind the bars the man who fired the fatal shot.

Accompanied by L. S. Helm, a young man who was beating his way on the freight train which was robbed by Clark's assassin, the officers accurred the neighborhood surreunding Uintah all day Wednesday. Helm was clding between two freight cars when the train reached Uintah. He saw a man skulking along the track and spoke to him, asking it he was going to Ogden. The suspicious-looking man answered in a rough manner that he was not. Helm came on to Ogden and learned of the shooting the next day. He reperted what he had seen and his description of the unknown man was found to be identical with that given by Deputy Sheriff J. J. Murphy, who was with Clark when the latter was killed. It is believed that Helm's evidence will prove invaluable should an arrest he made.

What was believed to be one of the best clues yet followed by the officers came.

prove invaluable should an arrest be made.

What was believed to be one of the best clues yet followed by the officers came to naught Thursday, after a trip was taken to Roy to arrest a suspicious-looking man who had been seen in that locality. Arriving at the little town, a harmless-looking tramp was found, with a bandaged hand, which he had informed the people of that section had been shot through with a revolver. After the officers had questioned the man and examined his hand, it was found that he was only using this scheme to secure sympathy, and incidentally alms, only a few sores being found on the apparently injured member. The officers returned to Ogden, and on Friday another trip will be made to Uintah.

EXPRESS COMPANIES TO OPEN OFFICES

Special to The Tribune.

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 2.—Through the efforts of the Weber club and the Chamber of Commerce it is announced that the Wells-Fargo and the Pacific Express companies will in a short time open up their offices for the benefit of the public. Both of the companies will have offices opened in the business section of this city by the first of the year.

The new quarters of the Weils-Fargo company will be located in the south addition to the Masonic building on Washington avenue, and the downlown office of the Pacific company will be established on the west side of Washington avenue between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth streets. This is a matter which has been agitated for some time and will be a great convenience to the public.

WOUNDED MAN MAY HAVE VALUABLE INFORMATION

Special to The Tribune. Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Dec. 2.—A sensational story is going around in this city tonight regarding the identity of the man said to be James Hartwell, who was found near the Southern Pacific tracks at Roy, on Thursday morning, in an unconsclust condition, as the result of a fractured skull. It is said that the man has been living at Ulintah and is believed to have been attacked by those responsible for Deputy Shoriff Clark's murder, because he was in possession of facts which Deputy Shoriff Clark's murder, because he was in possession of facts which might lead to their identity.

When the man was brought to Ogden he made an unsuccessful attempt to explain his condition, but lapsed into unconsciousness before the story was told. The two fractures in his skull were trepanned by Ductors Gordon and Robinson. Thursday evening, but neither of the surgeons believe he will live. It is the opinion of both that the man was struck by some small, blunt fistrument with great force, thus doing nony with the first theory that he sustained his in-juries by falling from a train. The fact that the man was found several yards from the track, lying upon a blanket, jends color to the suspicion that he has been the victim of foul play.

FOUND NEAR ROY WITH HIS SKULL FRACTURED

Dr. J. S. Gordon, county physician, was summoned and had the wounded mai taken to the hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured at the base of the brain. It has been learned that the wounded man's name is James Hartwell. How he received his injuries is somewhat of a mystery. The first supposition was that he had been struck by a passing train, but it was pointed out that he would have been found nearer the tracks if this were true. When found the wounded man was lying on an old quilt, upon which he had apparently been placed by some one.

GARDNER ART TREASURES ARE TO BE RELEASED

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Federal authorities in Chicago will relinquish their hold on the art treasures once owned by Mrs. Jack Gardner of Boston and shipped into the country as household goods by Mrs. Emily Grane Chadbourne of Chicago, only to be seized when their intrinsic worth became known, as soon as Mrs. Chadbourne deposits a bond secured by a certified check equal to the appraised value. Freilminaries were completed today with the filing of a petition in the federal district court in which Mrs. Chadbourne sets forth all the proceedings attendant on the shipping of the valuables and their detention by the government, the payment of the assessed duty and the federal penalty of half the appraised value, and declares that she will file a bond secured by a sertified check, made payable to Thomas C. McMillen, clerk of the court, for the appraised value of the articles which have caused such a stir. Coincident with the filing of the petition signed by Mrs. Chadbourne was a petition from Mrs. Isabelle C. Gardner, otherwise Mrs. 'Jack' Gardner, walving all title to the goods and expressing the desire that they be released and given into the possession of Mrs. Chadbourne.

PROSPEROUS CONDITION OF MINES IN MONTANA

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 3—Mine Inspector Walsh has made his annual report to Governor Norris. He states that the mining industry in Montana was never in better condition than at present; more mines, with more men employed, than ever before. A majority of the mines of the commonwealth are in fairly good condition, and the ventilation has received careful attention from his department. The prospecting for and the development of silver property has practically ceased, except in mines where the ore is of high class, but the production has decreased but little, if any.

COMMITTEE SELECTED TO GO TO DES MOINES

The committee, consisting of M. H. Walker, John D. Spencer and O. H. Enthusiastic speeches were made by several members, calling attention to the needs of the association and the manner in which the best results could be obtained at the coming exhibition. Following the regular meeting a session of the executive board was held and many details of the exhibit were discussed. The date of the next exhibit were discussed. The date of the next exhibit on has now been fixed as January 25, 1909, although the place of meeting is not yet determined.

The services of D. T. Heimlich, of Jacksonville, Ill., have been secured as judge of the different birds exhibited. Mr. Heimlich has done the judging at many of the previous exhibits and his decisions have been so uniformly satisfactory that his engagement this year is looked upon as insuring the success of the affair in the matter of distribution of prizes.

It is expected that there will be on exhibition nearly four hundred chickens representing the best breeds in the state. The Utah Pigeon club will also make its annual exhibition at the same time with the Utah Poultry association, and will have between three and four hundred birds. These will include a number of fancy birds, although practically all the best known birds will be represented.

a regular president and secretary will be elected.

Those who have the convention in charge are urging the arousing of a great deal of interest in the affair from the sommercial bodies of all parts of the state. It is felt that one of the greatest advantages of the convention will be the numbers of people who attend from distant sections of the state, since the interest of all sections is desired, and it is expected that the interchange of ideas by the representatives of sections of the state as remote as possible from each other will be of almost inestimable advantage to all who attend.

One feature of the consolidation is the fact that no expense will be connected with the organization, except such expenditure as each commercial organization may desire to assume for the purpose of advertising its particular section.
